They were data scientists, one a Ph.D. from Ghana, talking about using ride sharing data to learn to help drivers use less gas & drive safer

They were respectful, professional, brilliant, kind and sweet. Then we walked outside, as the bar we'd gone to for the afterparty closed

As we walked outside, this dude (below) called the man I'd been talking to an n-word. I was literally stunned and could only say "wtf?!"

Him: "you're one of those weirdos?"
Me: "what weirdos?"
Him: "you're one fucking freaks, like Chelsea"
[referring to my friend, @xychelsea]

I thought he was trying to drag me into traffic and kill me. I didn't know what to do. My left arm pinned: I punched him w/ right 3-4 times

Another "cool" thing is that Hardison's wife is a literal eugenicist

Bioprediction in Youth Justice

CHARLOTTE K. WALSH

[T]here is a small number of children, 0.1 per cent, about whom we should be very worried. These are the youngsters who at times want to kill and who hunger for savage power over others. Chronic maltreatment has weakened their pre-frontal cortex, the part of the brain responsible for restraining our emotions and impulses. Instead, in the service of survival, the earlier-evolved regions of the brain, those that generate the more primitive responses—such as kill or be killed—exercise greater influence. ... Neuroscience is now demonstrating that, without doubt, maltreatment alters the neuronal pathways, ...
