

Exhibit F

Sent: Mon, 17 Nov 2014 23:42:41 +0000
From: isis <isis@patternsinthevoid.net>
To: Peter Todd <pete@petertodd.org>
Cc: isis <isis@patternsinthevoid.net>
Subject: Re: poisoned

Peter Todd transcribed 3.6K bytes:

> On Mon, Nov 10, 2014 at 11:20:16PM +0000, isis wrote:
> > Sadly, I can't use --hidden-recipient with most of the people on that BCC > > list, as they've too many private keys. BCC, however, does hide the fact that > > I might have sent it to alternative, prioritised email addresses which they > > might not want public. :)
>
> Touché!
>
> Pity OpenPGP can't at least let the "try this decryption key" field be a > variable-bit-length prefix.
>
> > > I think this is either an imposter or you're still sick.
> >
> > Possibly a bit of the latter; I'm visible shaking and feeling nauseous > > again.
>
> :(
>
> Let me know when you're doing better; I'm beating off clients with a > stick...

:)

I'm at Zooko's house this week in a "secret meeting" to discuss Zerocash hacking, and also some general Tahoe-LAFS/Tor geekery.

--

♥@ isis agora lovecruft

OpenPGP: 4096R/0A6A58A14B5946ABDE18E207A3ADB67A2CDB8B35
Current Keys: <https://blog.patternsinthevoid.net/isis.txt>